

There should be lots of cats in the background, covering the entire page, excluding the yellow background of this text, but including the area outside the blue box. One of the cats should start exactly inside the top left corner of the blue box (the HTML box).

